The Alexander & Baldwin Sugar Museum's third annual art contest, "Remembering Sugar: How Sweet It Was," unfortunately was halted just as it was getting started in February of 2020.

We received some really terrific entries from Maui's students, and are disappointed we had to cut the contest short due to COVID-19. We would like to acknowledge the students who were able to participate:

- Alex Lehman, Makawao Elementary School, Grade 4
- Maximus MacKay, Lahainaluna High School, Grade 12
- Jaelyn Malia Bala, Maui High School, Grade 12
- Lovely Javier, Maui High School, Grade 12
- Mikal-Ann Place, Maui High School, Grade 12
- Kayla Ugalino Vicera, Maui High School, Grade 12

We have created an exhibit of the students' art, available to view at the Sugar Museum beginning April 12, Monday-Thursday, 10-1:30. Space is limited, and there is no charge to view the exhibit. You may also view the entries on our Facebook page @AlexanderBaldwinSugarMuseum.

The purpose of the Sugar Museum's art contest is to:

- Educate students about the history of sugar on Maui, and how it shaped our island society
- Motivate students to contemplate and explore the history of the place they live in
- Promote and support art in Maui schools
- Provide an opportunity for students to connect their art to the community

We will continue the art contest in its original form as soon as we are able. Thank you to the students who participated, and to their teachers, families and friends for their encouragement and support! Please direct any questions to Holly Buland, Assistant Director, at operations@sugarmuseum.com.

Dedicated to preserving and presenting the history and heritage of the sugar industry and the multi-ethnic plantation life which it engendered.
